VOLUME 40 NO. 2

Published as second class mail, GLEICHEN, ALBERTA, WEDNESDAY MARCH 26, 1947

SUBSCRIPTION $2.00 PER YEAR

Will Increase Membership Board of Trade

A regular meeting of the Board of Trade was held last week in the Community Hall with President T. H. Beach in the chair.

The financial statement showed the Board to be in splendid shape. It was decided to join the Alberta Board of Trade and Agriculture. The secretary was instructed to send in the fee for this.

The Bassano Board of Trade had sent an invitation to the local Board of Trade to meet with them at a Field Service Clinic. The invitation was accepted and it was agreed to send several members of the board were possible.

It was decided to take up with Wm. Wylie M.P. the matter of the poor condition of the No 1 highway between Calgary and Medicine Hat and if he could start some action to have funds allotted for the improvement of the highway.

The Board thought it would be a good idea to have a road map and folders of 1947 roads and decided to write the Calgary Board of Trade, regarding the matter. Those who received they will be distributed to prospective visitors.

The account of $60 due the Gleichen Recreation Centre, for cement used at the swimming pool, was ordered paid.

Among other things it was decided to have a membership drive at one dollar per person. Bill Blaney and Tom Brown agreed to take on the drive and get as many people as possible to join the organization. On Monday April 14, a banquet is to be held at which all members are invited to attend.

A dance is to be held on Easter Monday, April 28. Bob Brown, W. Gilbert and F. MacCallum were appointed to look after this.

C. Hatto and Al Wilson were requested to draw up plans and specifications of the swimming pool in order to get the necessary government grant towards the cost of the pool.

C. Hatto was authorized to plan and go ahead with the work of the swimming pool. Plans were made and a shade erected for the west side of the swimming pool. Bill members are in favor of having flowers and showers in the pool. Brown volunteered to look after the levelling of the area surrounding the pool.

The secretary was instructed to write the Calgary Parks Commission to see if he could secure some information on suitable playground equipment and where to get it.

In The Legislature

BY GEO. E. BELL, M. L. A.

The past week witnessed the passing of the estimates in the budget, also the further reading of many bills.

One bill before the house provides that nurses with a Grade XI school standing may become members of the Registered Nurses' Association.

Another bill provides that all adoptions of children must be done through the Child Welfare Commission. It also provides for closer inspection of the homes where adopted children are placed.

An amendment to the Public Service Vehicles Act provides that the Highway Traffic Board may grant a PSV licence without holding a public hearing to consider the necessity of such licence being issued. They will still continue to hold hearings where it is deemed necessary to get more information regarding the necessity of new licence being issued. During the war years, the Dominion government charged a three cent tax on all gasoline whether used for commercial or for agricultural purposes. This amounted to $4,000,000 in the Province of Alberta last year. On April 1st, 1947, the Dominion Government is going to vacate this tax. When the tax is vacated the government does so, the Provincial Government will keep in force two cents of the present three cents' tax on gasoline, except agricultural gasoline. All of the federal tax on agricultural gasoline will be dropped. This will give the province a 100 per cent provincial gasoline tax of any province in Canada. The provincial government's tax is expected to bring in a revenue of $1,500,000. (It was not affect agricultural gasoline) A change in the Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act provides that in case of two vehicles approaching or entering an intersection at approximately the same time, the vehicle on the left shall yield the right-of-way to the vehicle on the right. Another change deals with the case of the driver of a vehicle approaching an intersection, and provides that he shall yield the right-of-way to a vehicle in the intersection who is turning to the left across the line of travel of such a driver, if the driver of the vehicle turning left has given a plainly visible signal of his intention of so doing.

Another bill provides for the free hospitalization of old age pensioners, and recipients of mother's allowances, and the dependents of these people. A change in the Alberta Health Insurance Act provides that an insured person will be covered against bail loss while it is in stock or the swath. The annual debt service charge of the Alberta Government, after 1947, will be fourteen per cent of our provincial revenue. This is of course, based on present revenue. When the present government took office in 1935, the province's annual debt service charge, for interest only, was fifty-one per cent of the provincial revenue.

C. Hatto was authorized to plan and go ahead with the work of the swimming pool. Plans were made and a shade erected for the west side of the swimming pool. Bill members are in favor of having flowers and showers in the pool. Brown volunteered to look after the levelling of the area surrounding the pool.

Easter Meditations

BY W. E. SIEBER

Easter's joyful season is with us again. All around us nature seems at its with the promise of new life, new beauty, to remind us that life, not death reigns supreme in the heart of the universe.

Again we see God at work rebuilding and restoring the world of sin and sorrow. He has suspended or destroyed, and held out to us His promise of a new season of life giving and of life-sustaining vegetation.

But neither this, nor the colorful pagentry of an Easter Parade look up within themselves the real meaning of Easter for Christian people. Two thousand years ago dark clouds and deeper shadows rested heavily upon the heart of a weary and tyrannical world. Materialism and atheism were enthroned in the heart of man. He had died with Jesus on the cross. His resurrection was firmly seated in the saddle.

Into the world Jesus came to challenge man's sinuous and materialistic philosophy of life and called upon them to reach forth into the future. He offered them a new life with God. A little band of disciples followed him and placed their hopes and faith in Him. But rulers crucified Jesus and the hearts of the disciples sank into deep despair and black hopelessness. Their hope and faith had died with Jesus on the cross.

Then came Easter Morn. Jesus arose from the grave and showed Himself alive to His disciples and friends. No event in history is better attested than this fact and the course of human history as the Resurrection of Jesus. With it new life and new hope was born in the hearts of the disciples. These Galilean peasants felt a new sense of inner power and compulsion. What else could have sent them forth on their world mission after they had seen Jesus die on the Cross? What but the experience of meeting a living Saviour could transform the death-dealing Sord into an Apostle Paul who could write the 13th chapter of I Corinthians? What other power could have enabled the early Christians when they faced the lions in the arena or "the fiery trials" of the burning stake; the cross, or the sharp edge of the executioner's sword?

They felt within themselves, the living power of the risen Master seeking to transform a cold, brutal, godless world into a kindly brotherhood of divine sympathy governed by mutual care and love; to transform the hopelessness and helplessness of the world into a world of love, forgiveness and purity of life.

In there anything that is more needed in the world of today than this transforming power of the risen Christ in the heart of His Church and its members? 'Till all within His Church have come into the possession of this "power of His resurrection" and the accompanying assurance of immortality in their own hearts the church will not possess the dynamic spirit that alone can change the pattern of this cruel world with its selfishness and build a new era "according to the pattern shown us on the mount" where Jesus proclaimed His great principles in Matthew 5-7. The world today stands so sadly in need of the saving power of our risen Lord that is the real and inner Easter which the Christian seeks.

Low Easter Fares

Special low fares for Easter on Canadian Pacific Railway are announced by C.P.R. Gleichen agent S. Collins. Special fare tickets will be available from Thursday, April 2nd to Monday, April 7th and will be good to return leaving destination up to midnight of Tuesday, April 8th.

On branch lines where there are no train service on April 3rd, tickets will be sold to commence journey on April 2nd. Similarly the return limit will be extended to make it good on first available train in cases where there is no train service on April 8th.

The low rate of one fare and one third for the round trip will be good between all stations in Canada and in all classes of accommodation.

CHRIST LUTHERAN CHURCH

Christ Lutheran Church will hold its first confirmation service on Palm Sunday, March 30th. The examination of those to be confirmed will take place at the morning service at 11 a.m. on Sunday, April 6th. Fire Brigade To Hold Meeting Thursday Evening

The Volunteer Fire Brigade will hold a meeting in the Community Hall, Thursday, March 27, at 8 p.m. for the purpose of selecting some new members to fill vacancies. It is also desired to plan a more energetic program for the coming year.

All firemen are urgently requested to attend.

New volunteers are required. How about it, residents.

The fire fighting equipment is being put in first class condition, but it is useless without a well trained crew.

TOWN AND DISTRICT

Arthur Brown has taken over the George Burns garage and is now operating it.

Rev. W. Sieber was confined to his home during the weekend owing to illness. For that reason he was unable to conduct Sunday services.

Town Engineer Jack Luster had the grader out Monday leveling off the rough spots on the roads in town. Spring must be here when the grader is out.

Ted Vardell is now located in Queensland where he has charge of an elevator.

The Agent Pugh, W. Busby and C. Evans attended the Calgary bull sale last week. They bought a number of bulls for the Indian reserve.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sims and son Wilmer of Edberg, a town near Camrose, Alta., were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Sternier last week. They were returning from a visit to Manitoba by car and to get to Gleichen had gone 500 miles out of the way owing to snow drifts, taking three weeks to make the trip. At one place on the road they followed directly behind the snow plow for 10 miles. The snow was piled many feet high where the plow had gone through.

P. A. Sahara of Medicine Hat has located in Gleichen as the Rawleigh representative. In fact he has been in town for the past month and has been waiting the arrival of shipment of Rawleigh products. Mr. Sahara hopes to be able to get started by Monday next.

The community sale that was to have been held last Saturday by Auctioneer Barney Wood was postponed owing to the bad condition of the roads which prevented many people getting to town.

George Yamato, a resident of Chetiville, at an old timer of Gleichen 32 years ago spent a day in town last week looking up his old time friends. He said it has been a couple of years since he had been in town. He said he had been in the hospital where the doctors had used his bowties on him and now he was enjoying excellent health.

He is sixty nine years old and has retired from active work. In his younger days he must have received an excellent training since he is very mannerly. If Gleichenites do anything for him after he arrives home he writes them thanking them for what they do. We often wonder how many white people take a little time out to do that.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Please Don't Tell My Daddy

By MATTHEW F. CHRISTOPHER

THE only way to do anything is to go ahead and do it, my daddy used to say. And my daddy is a wonderful guy, Miss Evans. He's the best daddy in the world, and I know. That's the reason I'm writing this letter to you—because of my daddy. I'm writing to you because I don't want to hurt him. And I know you can help me, if you want to.

You will, won't you, Miss Evans? I'm ashamed to admit a little thing, but I know I've been a trouble maker since school. Daddy doesn't know it, though. At least he never let on. He could kick my neck a million times, but it won't do any good now. I would be like crying over spilled milk.

You've given me a good scolding many a time, but I remember the last one mostly, because it was only yesterday, just before arithmetic class.

I had forgotten to do my arithmetic lesson. I was glared through the problems and then when I started on them now I didn't get three problems solved before class would begin. So I slipped a note to Mary Jane behind me, asking her if she'd let me take her copy. Mary Jane is the smartest girl in the class, and we're pretty good friends, so she let me take it.

All the time, we made sure you weren't looking. You were sitting over your desk, and I guess you were pretty much absorbed in correcting some papers, because you didn't bother to look up.

I started copying her work, and believe me, Miss Evans, I really felt guilty doing it. I felt like a traitor. I was sure I could have done the problems myself if I had the time, because arithmetic is one of my easiest subjects.

But I copied the assignment anyway, and when I started to slip the papers back to Mary Jane, she saw when you looked up. Your eyes met mine first thing, then moved to the papers in my hand.

I didn't know what to do with my self, then. I was so scared, I blushed too, I suppose. I didn't know whether to drop the papers on Mary Jane's desk, or whether to put them back on mine. I guess you know how I felt.

Well, you know what I did, because you told me to do it. "Daddy," you said, "Please bring those papers here to me." I hesitated a second, I felt everybody's eyes on me, and I must've gotten awful red, because that's how my face felt. I got up slowly, and walked up and handed the papers to you.

You looked at the first page, and you said, "So—y—y—y copying Mary Jane's work."

GARDEN NOTES

Lawn Work Early

One of the very first on-the-lawn jobs in the spring is lawn work, especially the patching and general cleaning up of established lawns. One on start this job about as soon as the last snow is gone. Grass seed makes its best growth in cool weather. For patching and new lawns, too, experts advise getting a good grade of lawn grass, which will be a mixture of various sorts of grasses designed to make growth quickly and stay green year after year. For patching, the bare spots should be thoroughly stirred with a rake, then seeded rather heavily. Covering with brush or wire will protect from the birds. Fairly early in the spring is the best time to apply commercial fertilizer, which should be spread according to directions and preferably just before a rain, which will wash it in and prevent burning. Too often the average lawn is regarded as some permanent fixture which should take care of itself. As a result it soon shows wear and tear and eventually the bare spots should be treated with a good grade of lawn grass. Good lawns are fed regularly with fertilizer, are rolled early in the spring when the ground is soft.

Ideal garden soil is loose, open and on the light side. A mixture of sand, silt and clay is the best. Soil can be gradually changed into something more desirable by the use of a general corrective is plenty of rotted manure, or a similar material. The best, rotted soils, green crops, turned in after a year or two. All weeds, vegetable tops, grass clippings, etc., can be used as a mulch. A load or two of manure.

Commercial fertilizers should be used carefully, according to directions. The best are the most reliable. New fertilizers and beneficial bacteria have been developed.

A BIT CONFUSING

No wonder pretty people find it difficult to understand our civilization, when they see a world cheering Sir Malcolm Campbell for breaking the automobile speed records, and then fanning him for driving at 85 miles per hour says the Windsor Star.

I was mad clean through.

I was hardly through with my second problem when you said "Daddy!"

I looked up, "Daddy," you said, and you were smiling a little, "get your work together and take it home with you. You're leaving."

My heart started to pound in my chest. "You mean it?" I asked. "I mean it," you said, and you were still smiling. "You better hurry, if you want to catch the bus."

"Well, I hurried, and I caught the bus, but the deep snow, I never said anything to the kids, but all the way home I thought of how swell you were, and I wished I should be able to do things that make you so."

I never told daddy about that, either. I almost told him a couple of times while he was helping me on my model plane after supper, but I didn't. Finally, he said:

"It's your bed-time, son. You want to get up fresh and ready for school, don't you?" And I said "Sure, daddy," and went to my room.

But I didn't sleep a wink when I heard voices downstairs. It got me wide awake. I crawled quietly out of bed and put my eye close to the door to listen. And that was when I heard you saying to daddy:

"I'm sure that Daddy and I can get along swell together, Dick. I have a feeling that he likes me, and I like him. I like him very much. Matter of fact, probably as much as I love his father."

You laughed then, and daddy said, "I thought I'd better not tell him about us right away, but I suppose now it'll be all right. I'm sure you'll be a wonderful mother to him, Ann, and he a good son to you. He's a good boy. But who should know better than you? You're his teacher. You're his mother more than I am."

You see?

Please don't tell my daddy, will you, Miss Evans?

Help The Red Cross

Women Are Warned By Chiropractors

The woman of the future will have a hoof instead of a foot. She is the way now, according to chiropractors who have been discussing such things in convention. She may not know it, but her high heels and the 45-cent her shoes are bringing about the change. Her toes are shortening, her feet are extending as the arch is forced upward, her calf muscles are degenerating.

Incident to the progress of change, she suffers from fatigue, irritability, failure in business and society and even mental unbalance. And all that she may in the end have a hoof!

In the meantime, however, she is in the mode and therefore she is happy. And by the time she has developed a hoof that will be fashionable, too. So why worry? Chaitman News.

Senator Gershaw Writes From Ottawa

The report of the Postmaster General for the year ending March 31, 1946, shows that the net revenue was roughly 68 million dollars. The net expenditure was a little over 57 million so that there was a surplus of nearly 11 million dollars. Since Confederation there have been surpluses in 36 and deficits in 42 years.

The government departments have franking privileges that would bring in a revenue of $47,000,000 if the regular rates were paid. The post office saving bank costs the department $200,000 for which it receives no compensation.

The sale of postage stamps and etc. bring in about 52 million dollars. Commissions on money orders and postal notes bring in three million and prepaid postage accounts for most of the remaining revenue.

The big item of expense is salaries which is upward of $4 million. For carrying the mail the railways get eight million, the steamboats two million, air service 8 million and land service nearly 9 million. Bonuses, printing, stationery, pensions and travelling expenses make up the balance.

The buildings are provided by the public works department except where the postmaster uses his own buildings, as in the case in small country offices.

The air service is being rapidly expanded. This activity started in 1929 when one-third of a million pounds of mail was carried and the mileage was one-third of a million miles. Last year the weight carried was 7,500,000 pounds and the mileage 15,000,000.

The post office was able to play a very important part in the assisting of the unfortunate people of the devastated areas of Europe by carrying gift parcels of clothing and food to the zones where suffering was most acute. During the war a great volume of mail was conveyed to the forces overseas and from them to Canadians.

The question of pay for rural mail contractors has been often discussed in the house. The contracts are let by tender and very often the tenders are too low. Some routes are over bad roads. Some contractors must travel at all hours of the day and night and often wait for hours for late trains.

There is always the problem of breakages, wrecks, storms, illness, etc.

On account of the increased costs to the contractor during the war an extra bonus was granted to all contractors. This bonus was requested for the coming year. It is difficult to arrive at a basis for paying for this service. Mileage, weight and country pay has all been suggested, but up to the present leaders are still being called for and other things being equal no-one man has the preference.

F. W. GERSHAW.

HERE AND THERE

Geo. Burns received a telegram Monday from Ireland saying his jacket had been drawn for the great race next Saturday. His friends hope that he has good luck. No matter what happens he will receive $10,000.

Win. Sutermeister has sold the Sutermeister Industries to Mr. W. Pettit who will carry on under the name of Pettit Industries. Mr. Sutermeister has been Massey-Harris agent here for some twenty years and has made an outstanding success of the business. He will devote his time to his farms.

Owing to the amount of snow this winter piled up along the main highway and melting it is now in the worst condition. It has ever been. There are many bad spots where cars are being bogged down to the disgust of the drivers. Those who have to travel now go by rail.

Carpenters are busy at the swimming pool fixing up the bath house and getting things ready for the opening in a couple of months time.

FOLLOWING A PATTERN

Any woman knows that before she starts to make a dress or an apron she must get her pattern and follow it if the garment is to be a success.

An engineer follows his blue print or heaven help the project he is working on. The builder of railways follows the right-of-way surveyed before a rail or tie is laid—even a jist builds its nest according to the pattern in his small mind—year after year the same.

Ever since the war began a policy of the government has followed a set pattern of rationing, controlled prices—rent and fuel control—along with a plan of equitable in good shape while the war was on, and a safe return to normal prices time living when the crisis would be past.

It is now a year and a half since war came to a close and looking at it one would think there has been a pretty good job done.

For instance serious inflation has been avoided gradual decontrols have been set in motion, step by step costly subsidies have been eliminated or reduced—price controls are being gradually taken off with the result that now only the most important goods, food, clothing, principal fuels, rentals, a number of basic materials and farm supplies—have ceding prices. The move is slow and gradual back to normal bargaining in domestic markets with an ensuing upward in prices to meet the general level of world trade.
